Hello

This is a Freedom of Information request.

Background

There are 2 different plans out in the public domain called Inner South District Consolidated Policy Plan:

1. Currently the YourSay Conversations website has a plan titled Inner South District Consolidated Policy Plan and it shows an area surrounded by a grey dotted line designated as “Urban Intensification Areas”. Please see the YourSay Conversations website subpage titled ACT Planning System Review and Reform Project. There is a further subpage titled District Planning – Inner South. It has a Document Library that includes Inner South district maps. Those maps are attached to this email, with the file name “Inner_South_District_Maps”.
2. Reportedly a different plan also titled Inner South District Consolidated Policy Plan was circulated previously, during the Inner South District Planning Workshop held on 3 June 2021. It shows a much larger area surrounded by a grey dotted line designated as “Urban Intensification Areas”. It is attached to this email, with the file name “Pages from 20210603_Inner_South_District_Maps_A29210769_For_YourSay1.pdf”.

Requests

1. Please provide any and all information (including documents, emails, correspondence, reports, studies, briefs, assessments, plans, maps etc.) regarding:

- Is the larger area in “Pages from 20210603_Inner_South_District_Maps_A29210769_For_YourSay1.pdf” being considered for implementation?
- What is the current status of the larger area versus the smaller area?
- Have any decisions been made regarding the larger area versus the smaller area?
- Should the plan with the smaller area (currently on the YourSay Conversations website) be considered to be the current plan, and does that mean that the larger area is no longer under consideration?
- What areas in the Inner South District (excluding Kingston) are being considered for development that is more intensive than what is currently allowed under the Territory Plan?

2. Please provide any and all information (including documents, emails, correspondence, reports, studies, briefs, assessments, plans, maps etc.) regarding whether the historical and/or heritage and/or cultural significance of the older areas of Inner South Canberra has been assessed and/or studied and/or examined and/or evaluated and/or considered, including whether additional protection measures should be and/or may be put in place for those areas or some of those areas, in addition to the existing Heritage protection measures for specific blocks of land.

Thank you for processing these requests.

Regards
