OFFICIAL

Hi [redacted],

Further to our telephone conversation today we will follow up on the slab situation next week. We acknowledge the constant revision in dates regarding the commencement of the build has been extremely frustrating for you and we're hoping to clarify details of the project going forward with the builder. [redacted]

Kind regards

Good morning

I was just wondering if there are any further details regarding my build that came out of this meeting. Is the commencement date of July that the builder informed you of still effective, or has the estimated start date changed? If the July date is still effective, why am I have I been given 3 separate dates (in email) that indicate that it would be commenced before then? [redacted]
